Introduction

The “INFORMATION ON THE NORDIC ALCOHOL MARKET” –report contains information on national economies and populations, Nordic alcohol systems, taxation and pricing of alcoholic beverages, alcohol consumption and travelers' imports of alcoholic beverages in the Nordic countries as well as selling and pricing of alcoholic beverages by the Nordic alcohol monopoly companies. The report also includes information about public opinion on alcohol policy and customer satisfaction rates of the alcohol monopoly companies. Information on the Nordic alcohol monopoly companies is also given with regard to personnel, beverage brands, packaging, sales, social control and Nordic CSR cooperation. The countries included in the review are Finland, Iceland, Norway and Sweden with state off-premise retail alcohol monopoly companies, as well as Denmark which has no tradition of state alcohol monopolies. The off-premise alcohol retail monopoly company in the Faroe Islands (an autonomous part of Denmark), Rúsdrékkasölu, is also included in this report.

THIS REPORT gathered by Alko Inc. is part of a series of reports, first gathered for Alko's own purposes in 1999. Alko has since then expanded the comparative statistics of the Nordic countries. However, statistics on alcohol-related harms are not included in this report as to avoid overlapping with other publications like the Nordic Alcohol Statistics. Information on the Nordic Alcohol Market has now for the thirteenth time been published in English. This report will also be distributed outside Alko Inc. like to the other Nordic alcohol monopoly companies and alcohol monopolies in Canada and the United States as well as civil servants, alcohol researchers and other stakeholders.

THIS PUBLICATION has been compiled by Rami Penttilä (rami.penttila@alko.fi), Alko Inc., Finance and Esa Österberg (esa.osterberg@thl.fi) National Institute for Health and Welfare (THL), Department of Health, Alcohol and Drugs Unit.

Summary

Populations and national economies

By population the Nordic countries are small countries in the European scale. Sweden, with its 9.9 million inhabitants, is the largest Nordic country followed by Denmark with 5.6 million and Finland with 5.5 million inhabitants. The Norwegian population is 5.3 million, and that of Iceland is 0.3 million. The Faroe Islands, an autonomous region of Denmark, has 50 000 inhabitants.

The Nordic countries have stable national economies with similar economic developments. The gross domestic product (GDP) corrected according to purchasing power parity is EUR 62 607 per capita in Norway and between EUR 37 700 and EUR 44 900 per capita in all other Nordic countries.

Advertising of alcoholic beverages

All advertising of alcoholic beverages is prohibited by law in the Faroe Islands, Iceland and Norway. In Finland and Sweden, advertising of strong alcoholic beverages is prohibited by law. In Finland advertising of alcoholic beverages of at most 22 per cent ethyl alcohol by volume and in Sweden of at most 15 per cent ethyl alcohol by volume is allowed with certain restrictions concerning the content of advertising and the media used. In Denmark the advertising of alcoholic beverages is regulated by voluntary agreements.

The minimum legal age limits for purchasing alcohol

In Iceland, the minimum legal age for purchasing alcoholic beverages is 20 years, for both off- and on-premise retail sales. The same minimum age is also applied in Norway, for on- and off-premise purchases of strong alcoholic beverages, and in Sweden for off-premise purchase of all alcoholic beverages in Systembolaget. The same applies for Finland for off-premise purchases of strong alcoholic beverages. In Denmark, the minimum legal age for off-premise purchase of alcohol is 16 years for wine and beer and 18 for strong alcoholic beverages. In other instances, the age limit for purchasing alcohol off- and on-premise is 18 years.

The scope of the alcohol monopolies in the Nordic countries

With the exception of Denmark, all the Nordic countries have a state-owned off-premise retail alcohol monopoly. The extent of the monopoly rights, however, varies. The alcohol monopoly in Iceland, ATVR, has a monopoly on the retail sale of all alcoholic beverages over 2.25 per cent alcohol by volume; in Norway there is a monopoly of all alcoholic beverages over 4.7 per cent by volume. Consequently, alcoholic beverages up to 4.7 per cent alcohol by volume can be sold in ordinary grocery stores.

In Sweden Systembolaget has a monopoly of all beverages over 2.25 per cent alcohol by volume, except for beer up to 3.5 per cent alcohol by volume, which can also be sold in grocery stores, kiosks and petrol stations. In the Faroe Islands all alcoholic beverages over 2.8 per cent alcohol by volume are sold in monopoly stores with the exception of beer, which can also be sold by producers in the brewery outlets.

In Finland, all alcoholic beverages over 4.7 per cent alcohol by volume are sold in monopoly stores with two exceptions. First, Finnish farm wineries can sell their own berry-wines containing a maximum of 13 per cent alcohol by volume as off-premise sales. The same goes for Finnish sahti-producers, sahti being a traditional Finnish ale. Secondly, the off-premise retail sale of beverages containing distilled alcohol over 2.8 per cent alcohol is only permitted in the alcohol monopoly's stores. Besides ordinary grocery stores, fermented beverages (beer, cider or long drinks) up to 4.7 per cent alcohol by volume can also be sold in kiosks and petrol stations.

ATVR's, Rúsdrekkasölu's and Systembolaget's market shares of the recorded alcohol consumption are between 73 and 79 per cent. The corresponding shares for Vinmonopolet and Alko are 48 and 40 per cent respectively. To a large extent, the differences in market shares are explained by the fact that in Finland and Norway, medium strength beer is sold in grocery stores whereas in Iceland, the Faroe Islands and Sweden, medium strength beer is sold only through the alcohol monopoly companies. When compared to the total alcohol consumption, Systembolaget's market share has increased to 63 per cent while Vinmonopolet's market share is 43 per cent and Alko's 32 per cent. For ATVR the share of the total alcohol consumption is 73 per cent and for Rúsdrekkasölu 54 per cent.

Sales networks of the alcohol monopoly companies

The number of off-premise retail sale stores of the alcohol monopoly companies in relation to the population is highest in Iceland and the Faroe Islands. In Finland, the number of stores per capita is higher than in Sweden, although there are notably more order points in Sweden than in Finland. In Norway, the number of alcohol monopoly retail stores per capita is between that in Sweden and Finland. In Norway the alcohol monopoly does not have any order points. All off-premise retail sale stores of the Nordic alcohol monopoly companies are nowadays self-service stores.

The availability of alcoholic beverages in the Nordic countries is further endorsed by the postal deliveries of orders made to the monopolies the internet purchases of alcoholic beverages from the monopoly's websites.

The opening hours of alcohol monopoly stores are longest in Finland. Alko stores are open 64 hours per week. In Iceland the longest weekly total hours of service is 57 and in Sweden 55. The most typical weekly total hours of service are 50 and 46 in Sweden and Norway respectively, 42 in Iceland and 29.5 in the Faroe Islands. In all the Nordic countries, the alcohol monopoly stores are closed on Sundays.

Other off-premise retail sales networks of alcohol

In Finland, Norway and Sweden, some alcoholic beverages are also available in grocery stores. In Sweden, grocery stores can only sell beer containing at most 3.5 per cent of alcohol by volume. In Finland, grocery stores are allowed to sell fermented beverages containing at most 4.7 per cent of alcohol by volume, and in Norway all alcoholic beverages containing at most 4.7 per cent of alcohol by volume. In Finland and Sweden, those alcoholic beverages sold in grocery stores are also allowed to be sold in kiosks and gasoline stations. Furthermore, in Finland, wine farms located outside densely populated areas have the right to sell their own wine products up to 13 per cent alcohol by volume directly to consumers off-the premise. Similarly, in the Faroe Islands breweries are allowed to sell their own beer products off-the premise to consumers. In Finland, Iceland, Norway and Sweden citizens can legally acquire alcoholic beverages also via internet from abroad but according to the law they should pay domestic excise duties on them.

Iceland has the largest number of restaurants per capita, 344 restaurants per 100 000 inhabitants. Sweden and Norway have the smallest number, 126 and 144 restaurants per 100 000 inhabitants respectively. Finland has 153 restaurants and The Faroe Islands 183 restaurants per 100 000 inhabitants. A majority of restaurants are licensed to serve all alcoholic beverages. In Finland, however, approximately one fifth of all restaurants are allowed to serve only beer.

Taxation of alcohol

On a European level the Nordic countries stand out as countries with high alcohol taxation. In a Nordic comparison, taxation is lowest in Denmark and highest in Norway. In all the Nordic countries, except Iceland, the tax on strong alcoholic beverages is heavier than the tax on other alcoholic beverages. The taxation of intermediate products is also heavier than that on wine and beer in all Nordic countries except Norway and Denmark. In Norway the tax per centiliter of ethyl alcohol is the same for intermediate products, wine and beer. In Finland the taxation of spirits is notably lower than in Sweden, but the taxation of all other alcoholic beverages is higher in Finland than in Sweden. In Finland the tax on beer is higher than that on wine. In Denmark, the Faroe Islands and Sweden the tax on beer is slightly lower than that on wine.

Pricing in alcohol monopolies

The Nordic alcohol monopoly companies follow the principles of impartiality and transparency in pricing. The suppliers are informed in advance of the rules applied to the pricing of retail sale products. The retail price of an alcoholic beverage is composed of the beverage's purchase price, the alcohol monopoly sales margin and the potential deposit, excise duty on alcohol, any potential environmental or beverage package tax, and value added tax.

The prevailing pricing practice in the Nordic alcohol monopolies uses a coefficient principle. The sales margin is included in the prices by the so-called pricing coefficient. The coefficient is directed to the purchase price of the beverage, though in Finland, Norway and Sweden, it excludes the beverage package tax. In Iceland and the Faroe Islands the coefficient is directed to the purchase price and includes the beverage package tax. The sales margin consists of ordinary selling costs in addition to the required management expenses and business profit.

Prices of alcoholic beverages

Each of the monopolies have fixed prices for all alcoholic beverage brands, meaning the prices do not vary between the national monopoly stores in different parts of a country. Of all Nordic countries, Denmark has the lowest prices of alcoholic beverages. However, the pricing information for Denmark is not presented in this report, as the prices vary from store to store. In addition to the fluctuations in the currencies, the high excise duty on alcohol in the Nordic countries indicates that the prices of alcoholic beverages varies according to the country in question, mainly in compliance with the alcohol tax. This explains the relatively low prices in Denmark.

Travelers' imports of alcoholic beverages

In the beginning of 2004, the possibilities for Finnish, Swedish and Danish travelers to import alcoholic beverages duty-free from other EU countries increased considerably when quantitative quotas for travelers duty-free alcohol imports were abandoned. Duty-free import of alcoholic beverages from countries outside the EU is still regulated by quotas in all EU countries. In the Faroe Islands, Iceland and Norway these quantitative import quotas apply to all countries visited. The estimates and research results of alcoholic beverages imported by travelers differ considerably both by amounts and by the year the amounts have been estimated for. In Norway, the amount of travelers' duty-free imports of alcoholic beverages in 2016 was about 0.8 litres and Denmark in 2010 about 1.1 litres of alcohol per population 15 years and older. In 2016 the equivalent amount was in Finland 1.8 litres and in Sweden about 1.2 litres. In Iceland alcohol imports figures per adult population are lower than in the other Nordic countries.

Total consumption of alcoholic beverages

Statistics of alcohol consumption causes some problems. World Drink Trends published by Productschap Voor Gedistilleerde Dranken in association with NTC Publications came out last time in 2005. This means that the time series on per capita alcohol consumption given from 1961 ended in 2003. For the Nordic countries we collected for this publication per capita consumption data until 2013. Nowadays consumption figures are given per inhabitants 15 years and older, and we have not tried to recalculate the 1961-2013 figures per inhabitants 15 years and older. Instead we have given the 1961-2013 figures in Annex 1, and in this report we give alcohol consumption figures by beverage categories per capita aged 15 years and over like the World Health Organization also does nowadays.

The Finnish total alcohol consumption in 2016 was about 10.8 litres per population 15 years and older. In Denmark the corresponding figure was about 10.2 litres, followed by Sweden with a total alcohol consumption of about 9.0 litres per adult population. In the Faroe Islands it was lower than in Sweden, 8.5 litres and in Iceland 7.9 litres per adult population. In the Nordic countries the lowest per capita alcohol consumption is found in Norway, 6.8 liters alcohol per population 15 years and older. Recorded alcohol consumption has risen in all Nordic countries since the beginning of the 1960s. The increase in alcohol consumption was particularly strong in the 1960s and 1970s.

Consumption of alcoholic beverages by product groups

Among the Nordic countries per adult consumption of strong alcoholic beverages is highest in Finland closely followed by Faroe Islands and Denmark. In all Nordic countries, the recorded consumption of strong alcoholic beverages was higher in the middle of the 1980s than at present.

During recent decades, the annual recorded consumption of wine has increased in all Nordic countries. The highest per adult figure is found in Denmark followed by Sweden. In Sweden recorded consumption of wine is higher than in Finland, Norway, Iceland and Faroe Islands.

In tandem with the overall consumption, beer consumption went up in all Nordic countries in the 1960s and 1970s. Since then it has come down in Denmark. In Norway it has slightly increased. In Finland the recorded consumption of beer did increase in the 1980s, but has then settled. Also in Sweden, recorded consumption of beer increased in the 1980s, but has decreased since then. In the Faroe Islands and especially in Iceland, the recorded consumption of beer has increased since the 1970s.

Public opinion on alcohol policy and customer satisfaction rates

In all Nordic countries, public opinion surveys on alcohol policy show that the majority of the population is satisfied with the present alcohol restrictions. This applies in particular to the legal minimum age limits for alcohol purchase. A large part of the general public wants to limit the sale of wines to the monopoly outlets and do not wish to extend the sales to grocery stores. The inhabitants of Finland, Iceland, Norway and Sweden have been asked about their attitude to the monopolies' sole right to sell alcoholic beverages with regard to restricting the harmful effects of alcohol. Roughly two-thirds of the respondents support the present monopolies' sole right to sell alcoholic beverages. The customer satisfaction for the alcohol monopoly companies has stayed on a high level during the last years.

Nordic partnership: A sustainable supply chain

Since 2008 the Nordic alcohol monopolies have worked in close partnership on the subject of corporate social responsibility (CSR) with the aim of developing a sustainable supply chain for alcoholic beverages. This has resulted that the Code of Conduct has been included in all supplier agreements as from the beginning of 2012. The Code of Conduct refers to international conventions.

The Code of Conduct is a set of principles and values that reflect the beliefs of Nordic alcohol monopolies and the expectations they have towards their business partners. The principles and values represent the aspirational goals and minimum expectations that Nordic alcohol monopolies have with regard to their supply chains social conduct.

Obeying domestic laws is the first obligation of business enterprises. In countries where domestic laws and regulations are in conflict with, or set a different standard of protection than the Code of Conduct, business enterprises should see ways to abide by the principles that provide the highest protection to the workers and environment. The Nordic alcohol monopolies value cooperation, constructive and open dialogue in order to strive continuous improvement in the supply chains.

Concepts

Alcoholic beverage:

The concept of alcoholic beverage is defined differently in different countries and in different contexts. In general, alcoholic beverage is defined as a beverage containing ethyl alcohol intended for consumption by drinking. The minimum alcohol content for a beverage to be alcoholic beverage varies in the Nordic countries: in Sweden and Iceland it is 2.25 per cent of ethyl alcohol by volume, in Norway 2.5 per cent and in Finland as well as in the Faroe Islands 2.8 per cent of ethyl alcohol by volume. The Danish legislation has no general definition for an alcoholic beverage.

Off-premise retail sale of alcoholic beverages:

Domestic sales of alcoholic beverages to consumers, when alcoholic beverages are not consumed in the place of sale. In practice this means selling alcoholic beverages in the alcohol monopoly stores, grocery stores, kiosks and gasoline stations or other similar shops.

On-premise retail sale of alcoholic beverages:

Domestic selling of alcoholic beverages to consumers, when alcoholic beverages are consumed in the place of sale. In practice these would include selling of alcoholic beverages in restaurants, bars, cafés and other similar places.

Alcohol monopoly:

An alcohol monopoly has sole right for off-premise retail sale of all alcoholic beverages or those alcoholic beverages prescribed by the law.

Total consumption of alcoholic beverages:

The sum of recorded and unrecorded consumption of alcoholic beverages.

Recorded consumption of alcoholic beverages:

The sum of official domestic off-premise retail sales and on-premise retail sales of alcoholic beverages.

Unrecorded alcohol consumption:

Alcoholic beverages imported by travelers minus alcoholic beverages exported by foreign travelers, home brewed and fermented alcoholic beverages and illegal private distilling, smuggling, substitutes of alcohol. In Finland, alcohol consumed by Finnish tourists abroad is also included in unrecorded alcohol consumption. In other Nordic countries the amount of alcohol consumed by tourists abroad is not included in unrecorded consumption.

Purchasing power parity GDP:

The value of the total production of national economy, taking into account the purchasing power of consumers.

Inflation rate:

The change in consumer prices per year.

Unemployment rate:

The percentage of unemployed labor force.

Labor force:

The number of employed and unemployed labor together.

Exchange rates:

The price in domestic currency have been converted into euros according to the average exchange rates in the year 2016. According to these rates one euro equals SEK 9.4689, NOK 9,2906, ISK 133,59, DKK 7.4452. Alcohol excise duty rates have been converted to euros by Spirits Europe and they have used the exchange rate prevailing on 3rd October 2016 which were for one euro SEK 9.593, NOK 8,9625, ISK 156.68, DKK 7.4463. The exchange rate one euro for USD is 1.1069.

Public opinion on alcohol policy

Finland:

- According to a survey conducted by Kantar TNS in January 2017 with 1001 interviews
 - 50 per cent of population supported prevailing alcohol policy and 10 per cent wanted stricter policies.
 - 87 per cent of respondents agreed that strong alcoholic beverages should be sold only in Alko. Corresponding figure for wine was 47 per cent and for strong beer 43 per cent. 87 per cent of respondents supported that beer at most 4.7 per cent alcohol by volume should be available also in grocery stores.
 - 62¹ per cent of respondents agreed that Alko and its sole right to off-premise retail sale of alcoholic beverages is a good way of controlling the extent of the harmful effects of alcohol.

Sweden:

- According to monthly surveys conducted in January – December 2016 by SIFO Research International
 - 76² per cent of the respondents agreed that Systembolaget and its monopoly on the off-premise retail sale of strong beer, wines and spirits should be retained.

Norway:

- According to a survey conducted in May 2016
 - 55³ per cent of respondents agreed that Vinmonopolet should have the exclusive rights for off-premise retail sale of wine and spirits.

Iceland:

- According to survey conducted in February 2017
 - 68⁴ per cent of the respondents supported the present alcohol monopoly arrangement.

Faroe Islands:

- According to survey conducted in January 2017 by Gallup
 - 64⁵ per cent of respondents supported the alcohol policy.

Nordic alcohol monopoly CSR-collaboration

Nordic alcohol monopoly companies supply chain

Nordic Corporate Social Responsibility Cooperation

- The Nordic alcohol monopolies take, furthermore, responsibility for working conditions, human rights issues, the environment and anti-corruption measures. The goal is that all the products we sell are produced under socially, environmentally and ethically acceptable terms and conditions.
- The goals are:
 1. The workers acknowledge that the Nordic alcohol monopolies' CSR-program has improved their working and living conditions.
 2. The customers in the Nordic countries want to buy from us because they are convinced that the products are safe and sustainable.
 3. The suppliers recognize that we, the Nordic alcohol monopolies, are an honest and responsible business partner, and that the investments according to the Nordic alcohol monopolies' requirements have paid off.
 4. The producers recognize that we, the Nordic alcohol monopolies, are an honest and responsible business partner, and that the investments according to the Nordic alcohol monopolies' requirements have paid off.
 5. Society, media and non-governmental organizations say that the Nordic alcohol monopoly system is a good example of how to drive change in all sustainability aspects.
